NO-COST EDUCATIONAL VETERINARY SEMINARS FOR PET OWNERS

Long Island Cat Fanciers and VCA Animal Hospitals* are pleased to offer Long Island pet owners the 2011 series of free pet health care seminars presented by some of the most respected veterinarians in practice today. With expertise and many years of experience in companion animal medicine, VCA veterinarians will speak to caring pet owners, such as you, about real issues affecting pets.

Obesity, dental disease, hyperthyroidism in felines, stem cell therapy and regenerative medicine are among the many topics that will be presented.

Following each presentation will be a question and answer session so that pet owners can raise questions or speak with the veterinarian about any particular concerns they may have. Our goal is to present timely and relevant health topics that will help you to provide the very best care for your furry loved one, ensuring a happier and healthier pet. We hope you can join us for these informative and no-cost veterinary seminars.

We look forward to seeing you!
